No sales at the door

Do you have a Pete Seeger memory? Mark Hellman says Doris' is the earliest Seeger in Canada story he's heard. Many thanks to Doris and Ann for sharing. - Ed.

"Sometime in the academic year 1947-8 my UBC philosophy prof urged the class to attend a noon hour presentation by 'this wonderful folk singer Pete Seeger', sponsored by the Young Communist Club of UBC. At that time Seeger was an unknown, at least in Canada, and the Communists were not popular, so the audience was very small, no more than thirty. I didn't know what to make of this earnest, scrawny young man with the rolled-up shirt sleeves and sunburned nose. Visual memory vivid, auditory? Do I recall If I Had a Hammer?"

- Doris Gregory

"It was 1957. I was a Sophomore attending Mount Allison University, Sackville, New Brunswick when Pete Seeger came.

It was a big deal! The event was held in Fawcett Hall where normally our convocation ceremonies were held.

A few friends and I got so excited about this well known folksinger coming, that we had to have a few nips in the basement of the Hall first!

I simply remember everyone swaying to and fro as we sang songs such as Michael Row the Boat Ashore, Hallelujah, Little Boxes, and Where Have all the Flowers Gone? - still sung today over 60 years later!"

The Merry Widow
Thursday, October 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Queen Elizabeth Theatre
$81.00 per person, members & guests
10 seats only

All seats on the mezzanine level

Get ready to indulge...in this wonderfully lavish Art Nouveau production directed by Canadian Kelly Robinson (last at Vancouver Opera as director of the hit production of Evita). Set in the heart of vibrant fin de siècle Paris, the wealthy widow, Hanna Glawari, sung by Italian-Canadian Lucia Cesaroni, schemes to win the heart of dashing handsome Count Danilo, interpreted here by tenor John Cudia, recently at VO as Cassio in Verdi's Otello....Susan Memmott-Allred's costumes and Michael Yeargan's sets evoke the Belle Epoque period with winning style. Rising star conductor Ward Stare will direct the Vancouver Opera Orchestra.

Sung in German with English dialogue
and English SURTITLES™

The performance will last approximately 3 hours, including 2 intermissions.

Please note that all 10 seats MUST be sold by August 31
to retain the premium pricing.

From the President's Pen

Hello again. It seems like only yesterday that I posted my last Pres. Pen.

How quickly time passes and we are already half way through the Summer.

I hope you are having a good time especially when attending programs and events at Brock House Society: And I think that this a key factor because having fun + time flies + being very busy can = an increase in STRESS! (Mercy, mercy!)

So, how do I combat this? Well, how about taking a pen and paper as soon as the Fall Program is delivered and do some proactive planning and preparation of the courses and events that you wish to attend over the next 3 months.

I am making mention of this right now, out of necessity, because we are considering a new approach to attendance for some of our programs effective in the Fall.

Due to the high turnout for some programs and the limited capacity of some rooms, along with strict fire regulations, we will be also taking a more proactive approach by asking for pre-registration for some selected free programs.

(Fee-based ones will of course automatically require pre-registration.)

This will help prevent disappointment by making sure that there is a seat available for you when you arrive on time. Seats cannot be guaranteed if you are late.

So as soon as you receive the Fall Program, skim through it and make a note of the programs that interest you to see if they require pre-registration by either on line or over the phone.

By the way if you register and are not able to attend please let us know as this frees up the seat for another deserving attendee.

Thank you and don't forget to contact us and give us feedback on the specific programs attended or about the Society in particular.

And in closing the Summer Craft Market was a resounding success with great weather. Thanks to all those who attended and don't forget that the Christmas Fair will be as scheduled on November 24.

Enjoy the rest of the summer weather

-Peter Phillips, President

Meet in the Music Music Therapy Returns!

Gemma Isaac is a certified Music Therapist (MTA) trained in Neonatal Intensive Care Unit Music Therapy with Dr. Jayne Standley through Florida State University, and Neurologic Music Therapy with Dr. Michael Thaut through Colorado State University. Gemma is the music therapist at the Vancouver General Hospital Burns, Trauma, and High Acuity Unit. Her work in music therapy advocacy, job creation, and past 6 years in the presidential role for the Music Therapy Association of BC, earned her the "The One to Watch" Award from her alma mater, Capilano University. When she isn't building up guitar callouses, Gemma spends her time singing, dancing, and playing with her identical toddler boys.

As a clinician and researcher, Gemma is also a graduate of UBC Master's in Counselling Psychology Program with a private counselling practice on Broadway and Cypress serving first responders, medical frontline staff and families overcoming life transitions and traumas.

Gemma is delighted to facilitate a 10-week music therapy program creating a safe, expressive and fun gathering place were Brock House members can "Meet in the Music". Members will learn practical ways of how social music making can support self-expression, self-care, and social-interaction. Space is very limited so sign up today.

*"Music is a therapy.
It is a communication
far more powerful than words,
far more immediate,
far more efficient."

Workshop News

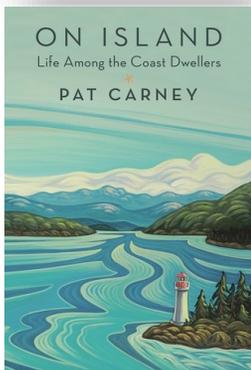

This year's Summer Craft Market was an interesting experiment. Lots of people showed up, considering that it was held mid-week instead of the traditional time on Saturday. We had a number of old favorites and some new wood crafts, such as our elegant turned pens. The turned bowls, candlesticks and plates were particularly popular but the cutting boards with artistic laminations of beautiful woods also sold well. The unique music sticks seen in the photograph drew a lot of attention and were almost sold out.

Our army of stalwart volunteers enjoyed meeting the enthusiastic shoppers, explaining the different items and taking orders.

If there was something at the woodwork table that sold out before you decided that you wanted it or that needed to be tweaked for your purpose, please contact the Workshop Coordinator at the Brock House workshop on a Monday or Thursday morning by phone or in person and we will give you a quote.

We have 12 seats only on this tour, which includes tickets to the show, a picnic table lunch at Bard by Emelle's and transportation to and from Brock House.

Cost of the tour: $129/members & guests

Pick up at Brock House at 12:30 p.m., drop off at Brock House at 5:45 p.m.

Croquet at Brock

Croquet is a beautiful game. It is played competitively in Clubs at Trimble and Dunbar parks. It was a competitive game at Brock in past years. We still have the same equipment the clubs use.

There are a few structured styles which we call Association, Golf Croquet, U.S. Rules, Ricochet, and Snake. Most people in Canada though think of 'Birthday Croquet'. A complete set from Canadian Tire or similar as a present for a child's birthday party.

Let's start with casual play, we'll call it Garden Croquet, a further simplification of Ricochet. Later we can move to a more formal game.

On the west green Wednesdays at 10:30, coffee on the west patio at 10:00.

No registration, simply show up and play.

Workshop on Electoral Reform Referendum:

A Voter's Guide to Choosing a Voting System

Monday, October 1, 1:30-3:30, Halpern Room

British Columbians will soon be able to vote in a referendum to decide if they want a new electoral (voting) system. The Study Group on Democratic Reform is hosting a workshop to discuss the referendum questions.

Shoni Field, a former member of the BC Citizens' Assembly and a speaker at the Study Group's May Symposium, will lead the workshop.

Join us as we:

1. Work through seven key questions to determine what you value most in a voting system.
2. Learn about the three proportional systems that will be on the referendum.
3. Assess how each system delivers on the values most important to you.

Explore the most common arguments on both sides of the discussion to differentiate fact from myth.

Hello Brock House Members!

The jewelry committee has started sorting donations for the Christmas Fair. We're always looking for new pieces to dazzle the fair attendees, if you're downsizing please keep us in mind. Every donation finds the right home, there is always someone looking for a piece to update a look or give as a gift. We appreciate every donation. Please drop by and see us, we'll be sorting jewels in the Games Room every Tuesday from noon to three o'clock.

-Patricia Peters, Convenor

Mother Nature put on a show and so did Brock House members-volunteers. Gillian Olson (Co-chair) and I spoke with many of our guests and, wow! Thank you! You made Brock House Society look as good as we already all know it is.

The atmosphere was tremendous. The yummy food helped. The music definitely did, too. A beverage from the pub? Sure! Our park? Yes! Wasn't it wonderful to see so many people sitting and enjoying and then getting up to do a bit more shopping?

Bottom line: you were all the hosts. Exceptional hosts. Thank you. And, by the way, we made an unplanned $7500.00 or so.

Please take a bow and once again, thank you!

Yarn and Needle Crafts

Many thanks to the Brock House members who donated materials and items to our group and made purchases at the Market. Thanks also to our group members who worked so hard crafting projects and to those who so generously donated their time and energy to make the day a success.

The group would very much appreciate the donation of cotton yarn of the craft or kitchen type suitable to make dishcloths. Members have been very generous with donations of wool and synthetics recently - and we greatly appreciate these and are making good use of them - but we have used up all our cotton. Please leave donations at the office, or after Labour Day bring them to us in the Meyer Room Monday mornings between 9:30 and 11:30.
